Sintesi contenuti	The course is an exercise in critical thinking. Thinking is critical when it is able to question the conditions of what is decisive and thus forms the basis of judgments and actions. On the basis of a philosophical diagnosis of the present, the elements that enable responsible decision making with regard to social, political, scientific and economic transformation processes should come to

	light. Examining these elements reveals sense-structures and widens the scope of decision making processes beyond the limits of usual positions. The exercise in critical thinking is completed by questioning the ethical implications of decision making processes.
Argomenti dell'insegnamento	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◦ Diagnosis of the present era in light of classical positions of philosophy ◦ Between the present future and the future present: How does "the new" come into the world? ◦ The paradox of the future ◦ On the constitution of transformative knowledge ◦ Uncertainty and risk as elements of transformative knowledge ◦ From transformative knowledge to responsible decision-making ◦ Relata of responsibility ◦ Systemic and ethical responsibility ◦ Fundamentals of decision-making ◦ Measure, measuring, excess (lack of measure): horizons of decision-making ◦ Crisis, criterion, critique: moments of decision-making ◦ What does responsible and transformative decision-making mean?
