Contents Summary	The course explores various aspects of econometric analysis with the aim of providing analytical tools useful for the study and interpretation of complex phenomena in the economic and social sciences. The programme is divided into the following modules: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(1) matrix algebra;</li> <li>(2) the linear regression model and its main extensions;</li> <li>(3) ARCH and GARCH models for volatility analysis;</li> <li>(4) panel data analysis;</li> <li>(5) the Logit model.</li> </ul> Each topic is treated in a rigorous theoretical manner and accompanied by application examples. The teaching includes assisted exercises, aimed at fostering an in-depth understanding of the content, and the elaboration of empirical analyses on real data using the statistical software R
Keywords	Linear regression; volatility, panel data, Logit model
