Spezifische Bildungsziele und erwartete Lernergebnisse	The main objective of the module is to offer concepts and methods of analysis to observe and understand the variety of social uses of language. The course is oriented towards the concrete analysis of sociolinguistic data from both classical studies of the discipline and more recent research. The examples cover a wide range of languages and social contexts (including South Tyrolean and Italian). Disciplinary skills At the end of the course, students are expected to have acquired the basic knowledge of sociolinguistics, i.e. related to the use of language in different social contexts. Alongside this knowledge, students will be able to increase their ability to observe and analyse real sociolinguistic behaviour and in this way increase their awareness of the analysis of verbal communication processes. Transversal/soft skills The student will be able to increase his/her ability to observe and analyse real linguistic behaviour. A deeper understanding of the functioning of the language tool enables a more conscious and

	effective use of language.
