Specific Educational Objectives and Learning Outcomes	The course is part of the optional offerings for students and is not intended to promote specific professional skills, but rather to present a figure - that of Maria Montessori - who is still too superficially known in the panorama of educational sciences. It is believed that the analysis of her pedagogical proposal can offer a new point of view (in the light of the pedagogical literature proposed among the basic courses), in order to understand the origins, educational value and didactic potential of a prepared learning environment. The main objectives of the course are therefore <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- knowledge of Montessori's life</li> <li>- knowledge of the fundamental characteristics of her method</li> <li>- the analysis of transversal elements that can also be applied in traditional school contexts</li> </ul> Disciplinary skills Knowledge and understanding of the figure of Maria Montessori and her contribution to the science of education on an international scale;          of the main characteristics of the Montessori method and of the operational choices within the Montessori experimental schools;          of the most current lines of research on the subject on an international scale.

	Ability to apply knowledge and understanding through the analysis of both mainstream and method learning environments and of the relative didactic-operative choices. Transversal/soft skills Autonomy of judgement: capacity for reflection, discussion, contextualisation (both historical-cultural and geographical-anthropological); ability to listen to and understand different points of view. Communication skills: Ability to communicate in a group and to support one's own ideas. Learning skills: Ability to reflect on one's answers.
Specific Educational Objectives and Learning Outcomes (additional info.)	Develop pedagogical sensitivity towards the role of the prepared environment as a "third educator" and its influence on learning processes. Promote a reflective approach to educational planning, capable of integrating Montessori principles into diverse educational contexts. Cultivate an observational attitude to understand and support individual development processes, respecting each student's pace and interests. Foster the ability to critically analyse contemporary educational practices in the light of Montessori principles. Deepen the connection between neuroscience and Montessori pedagogy, understanding its implications for learning and development. Identify and value sensitive periods as formative opportunities across different school levels. Develop interdisciplinary design skills inspired by Cosmic Education and the unified vision of knowledge.

	Promote professional self-reflection, integrating one's own educational style with principles of freedom, responsibility, and mutual respect. Strengthen collaborative skills, characteristic of the Montessori learning community.
Assessment	The examination will be conducted orally and will aim to assess the student's theoretical knowledge of the method under study, the ability to analyse it critically, to apply its principles to different educational contexts, and to present and clearly articulate an individual critical standpoint.
Evaluation Criteria	Awarding of a single final grade.
