Obietifs formatifs y competenzes da arjonje	Educational objectives: The course belongs to the scientific area of Political Science (SPS/04 - GSPS-02/A). The focus is largely theoretical with a strong policy angle, with invited speakers from different areas of both PA and the 3rd sector. The course illustrates the ways democratic concerns translate into policies, citizens' initiatives, and the design features of political institutions. It addresses the merits and strengths of the recent ideational turn in political science and public administration, focusing on the role of (creative) ideas in policymaking and on how citizens participate in knowledge co-creation for sustainability transitions. Among the educational objectives is to show that, over and beyond the use of incentives to influence people's behavior, initiatives aimed at shaping democratic experience and "everyday politics" are tools that help citizens develop new democratic habits. A part of the course is on political communication, understood as a two-way process that links citizens with institutions. Learning outcomes

	Knowledge and understanding: Know the history of spatial practices in art and design, and their main techniques and methodologies; Possess specific knowledge on the interactions between space and culture and on the sociopolitical implications of spatial practices; Understand the processes of transformation of space in the contemporary context, Analyzing them considering the connections with other fields of knowledge, such as sociology, anthropology and urban sciences. Applying knowledge and understanding: Design and implement spatial interventions, exhibitions, artistic installations and design projects that explore and reinterpret public and private spaces. Use reading, analysis, mapping and visualization tools to analyze and communicate complex ideas relating to space. Create spatial interventions that respond to the needs of communities, promoting inclusiveness and social participation. Making judgements: Apply the knowledge acquired in the professional context. Reflect and express an independent judgement, including on social, ethical and political-cultural issues. Communication skills: Writing scientific and technical articles and reports with clarity and effectiveness presenting projects and ideas verbally in a professional and convincing manner. Learning skills: The strengthening of the critical operational autonomy of students. The development of their ability to choose, compare and adapt to the new knowledge and technologies.
